Unitech has experienced staff who can conduct software license audits and advise your company to legalize its license gaps. Our experts will help you to comply with legal requirements and will propose licenses that will help you save money and give you peace of mind.